Election Related Information for the 2023 Municipal Election Day

The 2023 municipal election day will be held on Tuesday, April 4, 2023 with polls open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Only residents whose residential address falls within the following municipalities are eligible to vote in the April 4th Election: Bronson, Cedar Key, Chiefland, Inglis, Otter Creek, Williston or Yankeetown. In addition, the Cedar Key Water and Sewer district will also be holding an election.

"There are 6,800 voters eligible to vote on April 4th. Although turnout is historically lower in municipal elections, it's important to remember these are the elections that tend to touch our lives on a daily. I encourage all eligible voters who live within one of the above municipalities to do your part and vote," said Tammy Jones, Supervisor of Elections.

Qualifying for the municipal seats will begin on Monday, January 23, 2023, and conclude Friday, January 27, 2023. Please note the City of Chiefland will end their qualifying on Thursday, January 26th. Citizens who are interested in qualifying should contact their city or town directly for start and end times. Qualifying paperwork must be obtained from the respective city or town.

Supervisor Tammy Jones would also like to remind voters the deadline to register to vote for the April 4th municipal election, also known as book closing, is Monday, March 6, 2023. To ensure voters are "election ready," they can register to vote or update their voter registration online at www.votelevy.gov or in person at our office.

For more information regarding the municipal elections, contact the city or town directly. The Levy County Supervisor of Elections office does not conduct any municipal elections.
