Supervisor's Message

Happy New Year from the Levy County Supervisor of Elections Office! My staff and I are making preparations to take on the 2018 election cycle. Our main focus this year is making sure that our candidates, election workers, temporary staff, and voters are election ready.

There are two elections this year: the Primary Election in August and the General Election in November. Election Workers should have received correspondence from our office regarding this election cycle.

As this election heats up, we will be attending community activities, local schools, and other events to register voters and answer questions that voters may have regarding casting their ballot in 2018. Visit our community calendar on our website to see where our outreach team will be.

Thank you all again for everything you do to help our team run smooth elections! We couldn't do it without you!

Concerned citizens, incumbent candidates, and members of the media were present. Supervisor Jones discussed the fundamentals of becoming and being a candidate. Topics such as petitions and qualifying were covered in detail.
