Supervisors of Elections (FSE) Partner with Secretary of State Laurel M. Lee on NASS
#TrustedInfo2022 Education Effort

Levy County Supervisor of Elections Tammy Jones and the Florida Supervisors of Elections (FSE) are proud to partner with Florida Secretary of State Laurel M. Lee, in support of the National Association of Secretaries of State (NASS) #TrustedInfo2022 initiative. In preparation of the 2022 midterm elections, the voter education effort aims to promote state and local election officials as the trusted sources for election information.

"The spread of misinformation and disinformation to influence voters and interfere with elections is a key concern," said Secretary of State Laurel M. Lee. "We are grateful to be partnering with NASS and the Florida Supervisors of Elections for the #TrustedInfo2022 campaign to ensure that voters in Florida know that we are THE trusted sources for elections information."

Together, their goal is to ensure the integrity of Florida's elections and to support fair, honest and accurate elections in the State of Florida. As election professionals, they want to highlight their commitment to being the official trusted sources of election-related information. While there is a lot of information about voting and elections on the internet and social media, not all of it is credible.

Your local Supervisor of Election's offices and the Florida Department of State will remain the credible, verified source for election information in the 2022 election cycle and beyond. Many election officials will use the #TrustedInfo2022 hashtag to flag official election information on social media and other sites.
